PICASSO

Pablo Picasso was a Spanish artist who lived from 1881 to 1973. He was a child prodigy and began producing art at a very early age. Picasso's work was inspired by his father who was an art teacher. Picasso became one of the most famous artists of the 20th century. Although he tried many different types of art, he is probably best known for his cubism and abstract styles. He liked to paint portraits in unrealistic ways. Face features were not always in the right place or the right color. It is said he liked to paint what he knew, not what he saw.

Here are a few examples of Picasso's abstract portraits of women. Our project will be based on Bust of a Woman with Hat, 1962.
